

12 February 2010

To whom it may concern

On behalf of Noble Group, I would like to thank Chris Bliss for his "hands on" contributions to our Global Think Tank meeting in Dubai. His input in first shaping, and then moderating my Managing Talent workshop and panel discussion was particularly helpful, as this session was a first for the company, and an important one during our three days of senior management meetings.

I strongly recommend Chris Bliss to any company looking for a creative communicator to help them shape key events and deliver key takeaways in a memorable and impactful way. His commitment to becoming part of the team from start to finish, along with his unique performance background and skills, were critical in ensuring an entertaining and effective presentation that got the message across.

Sincerely,

Lelia Konyan
Group Human Resources Director